WAS A FAST CONTEST

Both Burns and Hatch Twisted Splendidly, But the Latter Was a Trifle More Steady—
Won His Own Game.

Burlington, July 25.—Burlington hunched two of its four hits off Burns in the eighth inning yesterday and together with a pass, was enabled to score two runs and a victory as the Intercity couldn't get a man around the bases. Both Hatch and Burns pitched splendid ball, Hatch having a little the better of it with nine strike outs to four by the visiting man and giving but one pass to two by Burns. Hatch won his own game with a single.

Ottawa at Intercity Park.

English Foot Ball Men Will Arrive Sept. 4.

Stronger in point of talent than the Pilgrims, who visited these shores last year, the Corinthians, a famous organization in London, devoted to association football, will make matters more than interesting for devotees of the sport on this side of the water next month and the following. Landing at Montreal about the middle of August, the visitors will play successively at Toronto, Bradford, Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Hamilton, St. Louis, Detroit, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and New York.

The game here will be played at the American League Park against an all-Boston team.

In New York they will play two games under the auspices of the New York State Amateur Association Football League, which has fixed September 6 and 8 as the dates. The first game will be played on the grounds of the Staten Island Cricket and Tennis Club at Livingston, N. Y., where also the second will be in all likelihood, take place unless a change of plan results in the selection of the Polo Grounds or American League Park, as in the case of the Pilgrims, who drew upward of five thousand spectators.

ROOT'S PROGRESS.

Secretary of State Reaches Bahia, Brazil.

Washington, July 25.—The Navy Department was advised today by cable that the cruiser Charleston, upon which Secretary Root is making his trip to South America, arrived this morning at Bahia, Brazil. It is expected that she will remain there only a few hours, and will then proceed directly to Rio, where the third Pan American Conference is in session.

The sunbird.

Very curious are the nests of the sunbird, scarcely larger than a butterfly. It chooses some exposed spot, probably close to the public road, and proceeds to build on an overhanging twig. The finishing touches being put to the small abode, it is left, according to one authority, severely alone until spiders have woven their webs over and around it. Another naturalist says that the birds themselves turn ragmen and, collecting any rubbish they can find in the way of moss, faded leaves, ends of cotton and other such trifles, stick them on the outside of the nest by means of pieces of purloined webs. In either case the result is the same, and they make their future home a thoroughly disreputable object. Tied, and not till then, does the little bird sunbird lay her two greenish white eggs, which she hatches under the shelter of a small porch which has been constructed over the nest, shielding her from sun and rain.

Banana Bread.

Bread made from banana flour is common enough in Europe and England. One pound is said to contain more nourishment and energy producing material than one pound of the finest beefsteak, is much more digestible and less than one-sixth the price. Sir Henry Stanley was a firm believer in the banana. He went so far as to advise that its consumption would cure rheumatism, gout and all liver affections. When lying at the point of death from gastritis a light gruel of banana flour mixed with milk was the only food he could retain and digest. The secret of the banana as a health and strength producing food lies in its high percentage of proteids and the great number of its calories, respectively 20 and 301.71. It is a perfectly balanced ration if sliced for breakfast and served with milk and sugar.—New York Press.

GET TWO INDIAN SCALPS

Batted Savagely, Getting Twenty-Two Safe Hits in the Two Contests Yesterday Afternoon—Boston Nationals Beat St. Louis.

The Boston Americans followed up their victory of Monday with two more safeties over Cleveland yesterday afternoon, taking the first game, 3 to 1, and the second, 9 to 2. This was due principally to great stick work, the best of the crippled Collinsites have shown this year. In the two games they whacked the ball for 22 safe drives. In the first contest the tailenders played errorless ball, in the second they were a trifle erratic in the field, but nothing compared to the Clevelanders. The feat of taking three straight games and from the Indians, too, has set the Boston base ball fans wild with joy.

At the same time that Boston was wallowing Cleveland the other two leaders in the American league were walking away with their games. New York from Detroit, 1 to 0, and Philadelphia from Chicago, 7 to 1. Washington also got away with St. Louis, the score being 3 to 2.

In the National league Boston defeated St. Louis, 1 to 0, while Pittsburgh downed New York, 4 to 3. By the same score Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia.

GLASGOW'S MUNICIPAL
'PHONES ARE A FAILURE

After Six Years City Sells Out the Plant at a Loss of $200,000.

New York, July 25.—It has become known in this city that the city of Glasgow has sold the municipal telephone plant which was established six years ago to compete with a private company. It was found that the municipal company was not a paying venture and the Town Council decided to sell the business to the postoffice at a loss of $200,000 rather than continue the undertaking. When the sale was decided upon more than $300,000 has been spent on the equipment and a further expenditure of $200,000 had been found to be necessary.

The Glasgow Herald, commenting upon the failure of the venture, asserted that the undertaking was a mistake in the beginning and the citizens should congratulate themselves that the loss is not more.

GOVERNOR BELL THE GUEST.

He Addresses State Board of Agriculture.

Fitchburg, Mass., July 25.—Governor C. J. Bell of Vermont and Lieutenant Governor William F. Draper of Massachusetts were guests of honor yesterday at the summer meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, held at Whalom Park. Delegates from various parts of the State and a large number of strangers brought the total attendance to nearly two thousand. Governor Bell delivered an address during the afternoon on "The Charms of Rural Life." During the forenoon session addresses were delivered by Professor F. S. Cooley of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, Henry M. Howard of West Newton, ex-Mayor William H. Blodgett of Worcester and W. D. Rudd of Natick.

In closing, Governor Bell said: "Nature's nobility always comes from the mountains. It is from the farms of New England that will come the boys and girls, taught to honor and dignify labor and honest toil, on whom the world will depend most for success. The simple life of the farm makes strong character."

NOT HELPING FLETCH
TO WIN GOVERNORSHIP

So Senator Proctor Told a Boston Newspaper Man While on His Way to Newfoundland.

Boston, July 25.—Senator Reginald Proctor of Vermont was in town Monday on his way to Newfoundland on a fishing trip.

He said he knew nothing of the progress of the campaign for governor in his state between his son, Col. Fletcher Proctor, and Hon. Percival Clement, the nominee of the independent republicans and democrats. For nearly two months the senator has been devoting himself to the restoration of his health, and he thinks after he returns from Newfoundland he will be as rugged as ever.

I have only been in Vermont one day since the campaign started and that day I was so busy attending to my correspondence that I did not have time to make any inquiries about the political situation," said the senator.

"I thought that as a matter of delicacy, as my son is the republican nominee for governor, I would avoid any step which might be a participation in the campaign. I do not wish it to appear that I am pushing my son, for as a matter of fact I gave him no assistance of any kind in getting the nomination, nor have I taken any part in the campaign, not even discussing the situation with him."

Senator Proctor left Monday night for St. Johns, N. F., to make a trip up the east coast of Newfoundland with his physician and son-in-law. He expects to be away three weeks to a month.

MAD INTRUDER.

Escaped Lunatic Jumps Into Bed of New York Mills Couple.

New York, July 25.—While Mr. and Mrs. William H. Tallman were sleeping soundly about 5 a. m. Monday the lunatic who escaped from the Utica State Hospital Sunday last only in his pajamas, entered the Tallmans' room and suddenly presented himself at the bedside of the sleeping couple.

He had one foot in the bed when Mrs. Tallman awoke and screamed. The intruder merely grinned then jumped into bed and lay down between husband and wife, preparing to sleep.

Tallman grabbed the madman and after a desperate encounter gained the mastery. The lunatic was returned to the state hospital. Mrs. Tallman is in a state of nervous collapse.

WOMAN FOUND IN PASTURE.

Had Been Missing Since Friday—Supposed She Was Demented.

Windsor, July 25.—Mrs. Nathaniel Jenne of Hartland, who disappeared from home Friday evening was found Sunday in a pasture some three miles from the house sitting on a log drying her clothes. She was discovered by Roy R. Kendall, who was looking for stray cattle in an adjoining pasture. A large posse of citizens was hunting for her Saturday but without success. Mrs. Jenne has been in ill health for some months and her mind was probably affected. She went home without trouble and is evidently none the worse for her trying experience.

ROBBERS GET $1,500.

IS TRUE
TO THAWHis Wife Terms Divorce Story
a "Cruel Canard"

WITH NO FOUNDATION

His Mother Clings to Insanity Plea, Leaves the Tombs in Tears After Trying to Win Him.

New York, July 25.—How deeply Evelyn Nesbit is affected by the story that she is planning to obtain a divorce from her imprisoned husband was manifested this morning, when for the first time since the murder of Stanford White she consented to be interviewed while on a visit to the Tombs. She did not say a word about the divorce, but she did say to the point, namely, that the allegation that she wants to separate herself from her husband and return to her old life upon the stage, was a canard.

Mrs. Thaw arrived on her customary visit to her husband at the Tombs at 10.45 o'clock. A bright smile was on her face as she entered, and she seemed to be elated over something. When the question was put to her, "Is it true that you have been seeking a divorce from your husband?" the smile fled from her face and she said, with her eyes flashing: "That story is perfectly absurd. It is a cruel canard. There is absolutely nothing to it. That's all I have to say about it."

"Is it true, as your counsel is quoted as saying, that you will not go on the stand as a witness at the trial?" she was asked.

"I can't say anything about that; that matter is in the hands of my counsel."

Asked as to the authenticity of a story published in an afternoon paper, purporting to be her own narrative of her relations with Thaw and White, Mrs. Thaw said:

"I know nothing of any such story."

The young wife refused to answer any more questions, and after submitting to the usual search went to her husband's cell. A few minutes later Mrs. William Thaw, Harry Thaw's mother, and her daughter, Mrs. George Lander Carnegie, arrived and also went to Thaw's cell.

Just what the object of this conference was no one was willing to say, but it is understood that the elder Mrs. Thaw wanted to discuss with her son the matter of a lunacy commission which, it is said, the mother intends to apply for through her counsel, Black, Cleot, Gruber & Bonyne, in spite of the protest of young Thaw that he is perfectly sane.

In a final adjudication of insanity the elder Mrs. Thaw sees the only hope for saving her son from the death chair, and it is said that she does not at all despair of accomplishing her purpose. It is to argue this point with her son that she is making her daily visits to the Tombs. It is said though, there is little doubt that Mrs. Thaw will make the application whether her son or her son's counsel is willing or not.

It was apparent when Mrs. Thaw left her son after an hour's visit to his cell in the Tombs that she had had another earnest talk with him and had been unsuccessful in her efforts to persuade him to accede to her wishes in the matter of counsel and the future conduct of his case.

BRYAN WAS ELOQUENT.

Largely Instrumental in Interparliamentary Conference.

London, July 25.—Wm. J. Bryan made an eloquent address at yesterday's session of the interparliamentary peace conference, which was largely instrumental in inducing the conference to adopt resolutions regarding the extension of arbitration in settlement of international disputes. At the conclusion of the speech he was the recipient of a great ovation, the delegates crowding around him and congratulating him.

When Dobbs Writes Home.

Friend Dobbs was about leaving home for the continent and his wife, knowing his aversion to letter-writing, accordingly said:

"Now John, you must be eyes and ears for us at home, and drop us an occasional postal card telling us anything of interest. Don't forget, will you?"

The husband promised and left. The next morning his wife received a postcard with the following: "Dear wife, I reached Denver all right. Yours, aff.".

Though somewhat disappointed, she thought her husband must have been pressed for time. Two days later, however, another card arrived, with the startling announcement: "Here I am in Paris—Yours ever." And still later: "I am indeed in Paris. Yours."

The wife swallowed her chagrin and being good at retaliation, seized her pen and wrote: "Dear Husband, the children and I are at Brixton. Yours."

A few days later she wrote again: "We are still in Brixton."

In her last communication she grew more enthusiastic: "Dear Husband, here we are in Brixton. I repeat it, we are in Brixton. P.S.—We are indeed."

To due time her husband reached home, and almost fearing that his poor wife had temporarily lost her senses, hastened to ask the meaning of her strange messages. For answer she handed him his own three postcards.

"What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," she said.

There is not the slightest doubt that Mr. John Dobbs profited by the lesson.—Tid-Bits.

SLEPT TWENTY-SIX DAYS.

New York Girl Has Lain in a Stupor on Top of Building.

New York, July 25.—Four-year-old Elsie Taylor has been unconscious 62 days, on the top of the great office building at No. 60 Wall street, in the heart of the financial district.

Physicians and nurses who are caring for the little sufferer of spinal meningitis declare it is the strangest case to come under their observation, and they refuse to predict the outcome.

The child's father is the superintendent, and has one of the most remarkable homes in New York. It is 375 feet above the street, and never a sound of the bustle and turmoil from the crowd below reaches the sick bed.

Taken ill in May, the child apparently was improving when she lapsed into unconsciousness, from which nothing has been able to rouse her.

Beyond devising new forms of giving nourishment, there is little for the doctors to do.
